

Louise Hillary

Hi, I'm Louise and I work as an Early Help Area Officer within Cumberland Council.

My role is very much a supportive one, working alongside practitioners to help them feel confident in navigating the Early Help process and providing the right support to children, young people and families through understanding needs, exploring factors that may be affecting family life, and signposting to services and support that could be beneficial.

My background is in both primary and further education, with a specific interest in SEND. I am passionate about supporting children, young people and families to improve outcomes for children.

Outside of work, I am a mum to two amazing little girls, and I enjoy spending time with my family.
